SALVATIONISTS' SPLENDID HEROISM IN FACE OF DEATH

... saw the Salvationist pick up his wounded chum and make a dash for safety. . . . Then I got his, and the brave fellow put his other arm underneath and carried me both off. — See story told to a British "War Cry" Representative by a wounded soldier returned from the front.

$50,000 Wanted to Help Those in Need Who Have no Claim on the Patriotic Funds

The Canadian Public Should Help This Fund

Already my newly-found friend was on his feet, for the train was pulling up at the station at which he wanted to alight, and in less than ten minutes from the time of our meeting we parted, he to go across London to catch a train for the first part of the journey back again to the front, having fully recovered from his wound, and I to <sup>be on</sup> the chronicle of a deed which will make every Salvationist <sup>see to</sup> have so noble a co-soldier in ranks.

BAND NOTES

The Strathroy Band was present and assisted at the Council for Officers and Soldiers of the London Division, on Thanksgiving Day. Those present appreciated its playing very much. It is a credit to the Division.

The newly-formed Souster Brigade made its first appearance on Sunday evening, October 18th. "Calvary" was rendered in a very creditable fashion. Our Band, which visited London, Ont., for the Councils recently, is making great headway, under Bandmaster Geo. Cave, and recently conducted a fine Sunday.

The Yorkville Band, with its new lights, for after-dark open-air and marches, makes quite an interesting sight, and its appearance generally causes quite a stir. Yorkville comrades are also to be congratulated on the organizing of a Timber Band, with Sergeant-Major Goff as Bandmaster.

During the visit of the Divisional Commanders to Winnipeg, H. Corps they were assisted by the Winnipeg 1. Young People's Band and the Scandinavian Band, under Adjutant Larsson.

Recent additions to the Dovercourt Band are Adjutant Knight, late of Montreal, who is to take up solo trombone, and Bandman L. Kingston, who will take solo cornet.

The Ottawa 1. Band has been reinforced by Ensign Robinson. God bless him! Bandmaster Harris is to be congratulated on the advance of the Band. This organization renders great service to the Corps.

The Simcoe Band is now fully commissioned, and is making good progress under Bandmaster Ellis. Candidate E. Potts, who for some time played solo horn, has farewell for the Training College, and Secretary C. Gifford has been transferred from first baritone to solo horn. Bandman Bridgewater lays down first cornet for first baritone. We have welcomed Bandman V. Keale, from Hamilton. He has taken up first cornet.—W. R.

Bandman Watson and Carter visited Aurora on October 15th, and by their playing greatly assisted our Band. We have now a Band of four pieces. Captain Martin, our Corps Officer, has returned from his furlough.

The Moose Jaw Band, under Bandmaster Delamont, visited the General Hospital, after the Sunday.

Prayer Topics.

1. Prayer for Soldiers and Bandmen who are unemployed through war conditions; that brighter days may dawn.
2. Prayer for all Army Officers and Chaplains with the army and navy.
3. Prayer for all who are suffering bereavement because of the war.
4. Prayer for Salvation to come to all hearts.
5. Prayer for Belgium!
6. Prayer for our General and all leaders in these crisis days.

Heart-to-Heart Talks.

(By Mrs. Blanche Johnston.) During my interesting week-end visit to Niagara Falls, Captain and Mrs. Speller told me some striking incidents of answered prayer.

The Captain mentioned one concerning a comrade in a northern Corps, whose work carried him into the lumber camp. One dark night he unfortunately lost his way. His custom, of course, was to carry matches, and praying earnestly for God to guide and help, he struck a light. Glancing upward he saw a hatchet buried in a tree. He seized it as an answer to his prayer; cut some branches and kindled a fire to keep him warm throughout the chilly night.

From Captain Speller's own treasure store of experience were cited some telling facts, as proof of answered petition.

The night following his own conversion he began to pray in his sleep for an unconverted brother.

Though the brother roused him, and told him he must cease, as he was quite able to pray for himself, and was much touched and impressed, and shortly after became converted.

For many years Captain Speller prayed that his sister might seek the Saviour. After a silence of three years she wrote to say his prayers on her behalf was answered.

The success achieved in a Corps where a gracious awakening occurred, and sixty souls came to the Kingdom is attributed to the

for the battle and thing, edible and captured, the few words. Adjutant Donald also spoke.

The Bowmanville Corps comprises eight did good. Little's visit, on the night, Lieutenant the Band through creditably.—H. S.

The Halifax I. Band at Dartmouth for the entitled "The Progressed greatly by ginning selections.

On one occasion the Captain's wife was in financial straits. There was no money in the treasury, and the Captain did not wish to incur debt.

He went out to gather firewood in an old outbuilding, and searched for pieces of dollar notes, and found underneath. There he prayed earnestly for the opening of his eyes, and the result was a large sum of money.

These examples are given to show the power of prayer, and the encouragement of those who are praying for spiritual and temporal

ADJUTANT JAYNES.

ADJUTANT EARLE.

Her present work is at Grace Hospital, Winnipeg, where she renders very efficient service as a nurse.

Adjutant Ensign.

It was John Ebsary's early ambition to build ships, and he was learning his trade at St. John's, N.B., when the call to Officership in the Salvation Army came to him. His ambitions thenceforth were directed into the channel of building up the Kingdom of God. He was accepted as an Officer in 1899, and has been stationed at twelve Corps in Newfoundland. His work at each place has been of such a character as to justify his steady advancement. In 1903 he married Lieutenant Sarah Townbridge, and they are now stationed at Dilno.

Adjutant Earle.

When George Earle got converted, he was a fisherman residing at Shearstown, Nfld. But he heard the Master's call. "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men," and he left all to follow. He was accepted as an Officer in 1903, and has been stationed at fourteen Corps in his native N.B. since then. At each place he has done a good work, and has "fished" earnestly and patiently for souls. He married Lieutenant Annie Sainsbury in 1910, and they are now stationed at Filley's Island.

Adjutant Jaynes.

Ever since his marvellous conversion on the streets of St. John, N.B., it has been the fondest desire of Brother Marshall's heart that his children should become Officers of The Salvation Army. He is a proud man to-day therefore to think that his two eldest girls are fully engaged in the Work. Maud is the wife of Ensign Ben Turner, and Myrtle has just been promoted to the rank of Ensign and appointed to take charge of St. John's (Nfld.) Rescue Home.

During the nine years that the latter has been an Officer she has proved equally able as a Corps Commander and as a Social Officer. Five years of that period were spent as Lieutenant and Captain at various Corps, and at each place she did a real good work, and made a splendid impression.

In 1911 she was transferred to the Women's Social and appointed to assist at the Ottawa Rescue Home. She manifested keen interest in the work, and studied nursing to such good effect that she was able, a few years later, to pass an examination in Winnipeg as a qualified nurse. Having fully demonstrated her ability and trustworthiness in this class of work, she goes to St. John's with the fullest confidence of her leaders. It is interesting to note that she takes as her assistant Captain Hord, whom she was instrumental in winning to God when stationed at Bowmanville.

THE 'ARMY' IN CEYLON

MEMORIAL BUILDINGS ARE OPENED.
Tributes to The Army's Uplifting Influence.

In connection with the celebration of the thirty-first Anniversary of the Salvation Army ministry in Ceylon the William Booth Memorial buildings, comprising a large Hall, and the Territorial Headquarters, erected in Colombo, were opened. Writing of the event Brigadier Samara Veer says:—

"Considerable" interest was aroused throughout the island. Crowds of people streamed into the city anxious to be present at the ceremony which was presided over by the Mayor, R. W. Byrde, Esq., B.A.

C.S. Worship paid a high tribute to what he termed "the uplifting influence exercised by The Salvation Army throughout the world." There were several other speakers, including Sir Hector Van Cuylenburg, who said, "The Salvation Army is a national asset, and it has been one of the mainstays of the Singapore people who have gained the approval and practical support of the Ceylon Government." Sir Allan Perry said, "The Salvation Army is working hand in hand with the Government for the redemption of the criminal classes and for the healing of the vagrant. Long may its flag fly in this beautiful island!"

TO HOUSE TWO HUNDRE
BELGIAN REFUGEES.

Having been approached by the Local Government Board The General has agreed to place our Quaker Street Home (London, Eng.) at the disposal of the Belgian Refugee Committee. Two hundred men, women, and children will arrive from Belgium, and will be taken to Quaker Street where they will be housed and fed. Pending further arrangements in regard to them.

It will be remembered that already the Salvation Army, both in London and other centres has, through its Officers and Bands, done something to ameliorate and brighten the sad lot of these distressed people who are the victims of as cruel a set of circumstances as can well be imagined.

Some one has said that "the real conquerors of the world are not the generals, but the thinkers." One revolutionary idea let loose from the brain of a man may upset the usage of centuries, and change the face of the world. The thinker is the ruler. Well for him, and well for others, if he thinks right.

ARMIES AND DRINK

Whatever else this war may reveal it shows in a remarkably strong light what such leaders of men as Lord Kitchener and the general staffs of the French and Russian armies think of strong drink. The Secretary of War for Great Britain and Commanders-in-chief of the French and Russian armies have condemned the use of intoxicants in the most unmeasured terms, in some cases to the extent of prohibition. It seems that in this respect Lord Kitchener is in advance of the ordinary British custom, for we regret to say that he has found it necessary to issue an appeal to the public in which he emphasizes the importance of keeping the army now training in good condition. This result, he says, will be obtained only by strict sobriety, and while the soldiers are doing so he can get into condition in the shortest possible time. Lord Kitchener urges the public, both men and women, to aid them in their sobriety by refraining from treating them, and by appointing committees in neighbourhoods where soldiers are stationed to impress them with the need of temperance, and assist them in avoiding temptation. In view of this we are sorry to learn that it has been decided by the authorities at Salisbury Plain to open the wet canteen for the use of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. The Canadians did very well with a dry canteen at Valenciennes, and we have the authority of such a military genius as Earl Kitchener that the good condition of a fighting man can only be obtained by sobriety. That the establishment of canteens for the sale of intoxicating liquors will be an incentive to the treating that Lord Kitchener deprecates is obvious, for "how oft the means to do ill deeds make ill deeds done." It seems to us, therefore, bad business from the standpoint of military efficiency for the general commanding to grant facilities for the distribution of liquors on Salisbury Plain, and then there is the sad spectacle of the Motherland permitting what France and Russia and Canada refuse the supply of drink to her sons who are fighting her

Colonel &amp; Mrs. Gaskin at Hamilton

A CAMPAIGN REMARKABLE FOR SPIRITUAL INFLUENCE, SPLENDID CONGREGATIONS, AND CONVERSIONS.

THE three-day campaign at Hamilton, conducted by the Chief Secretary, began with a rousing meeting at Hamilton on Friday. A large and well-attended, and the hearty singing on the part of the audience and the Colonel's powerful speaking made us feel that it was good to be there. A fine congregation assembled at the Citadel on Sunday morning for the Holiness meeting. Revelation, Recognition, and Realization was the theme of the meeting, and as he discoursed on the blessed words, "How much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask," the timid took fresh courage, the weak secured strength, and even the strong received in refreshing power and inspiration. It was Bethel to our souls. A striking feature of the meetings was the splendid audiences both in the open-air and in the Citadel.

In the afternoon a splendid audience gathered, and the singing made our hearts rejoice. Many gave definite testimonies as to the joy and peace they experienced by doing the whole will of God. The Colonel again gave us a stirring address, warning us never to be ashamed of God.

After a huge market at night we faced a packed house. The singing again was grand, and Young People's Sergeant-Major Rowe and Mr. Brigadier Adley sought the presence of God in prayer. The influence of God's Spirit was felt in the meeting. The Chief Secretary, in his most eloquent and powerful words, two sides of life, and told of the assurance of safety and guidance that is the lot of the righteous and the protection afforded those who look to the God of their Salvation. He also spoke of the deadly weapons of riches and pleasure that are used by the wicked to take away the mind of man from the worship of God. The message gripped the hearts of the people present.

Mrs. Gaskin also gave an address on the possibilities that all have of securing the best that God has to offer. France refuses abstinence to her soldiers; Russia prohibits the sale of vodka among her fighting men, but Britain permits to be supplied to the Canadian boys who have crossed the roaring seas to go to her aid, that which they were not allowed at home—beer. It does not look good to us.

PERSONALIA

INTERNATIONAL

The General has been closely engaged with the world-wide interests of The Army. Important matters have occupied him with, among others, Commissioner McAlonan, Commissioner Lamb, Commissioner Cosandey, and Commissioner Higgins; Brigadier Mary Murray (now Major Mary Murray, troops on the Continent), and Major Yabuki (Japan). He is also concerned with the present war crisis have also been with him.

The General has been greatly improved in health, but is still under the doctor.

Commissioner and Mrs. Hodder, of the Eastern Station, left Monday morning for Liverpool, whence they sailed later in the same ship for Zealand.

In a personal letter to the General, Captain Cook has written that he is under the doctor's hands, and is expecting to leave the 19th of October, 1914.

On Monday afternoon the Colonel, with Brigadier Morris, who came over for the Council, met thirty-nine officers in the morning. Brigadier Morris gave us a few words of his personal experience, and then he spoke of the world our love was for God. The Chief Secretary was in good form, and called the gathering a "military meeting, and the oneness of spirit and purpose that was present made us all feel that hearts and minds were anxious to work unitedly for the Salvation of the people. The words spoken will long live in our memory, and whether we pass through the tribulations spoken of we feel our robes, through the blood of Christ, shall be made white.

The night, and final, session of the campaign was a good tonic for the soul and a time of conviction to the sinner and wayward. Many happy recollections came before our eyes by the various speakers, who could doubt the power of God to do, far exceeding abundantly above all we could ask or think.

The Chief Secretary was greeted most heartily as he entered the theater of the occasion, and pouring out of a full heart his beliefs concerning the Scriptures, made all present feel that the "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." May God secure for Himself much honour and glory for the work and toil of the Colonels during their stay in this happy land of the United States City. Five souls volunteered for Salvation—four of them, were men, and one gave up his tobacco and pipe.

Mrs. Gaskin was made by Brigadier and Mrs. Adley, Adjutant, and Mrs. Kendall, and all city Officers, assisted during the campaign, joined on the Monday night by Officers from many nearby towns, and the Hamilton Division—Edwin Clayton, convened during the last week or two by a sprained ankle; and though the trouble is now happily passing away, he is still rather lame. Sunday, Oct. 18th, was devoted to the Cadets at Clapton, on the 25th he and Mrs. Booth will (D.V.) be at Plymouth, and on the 28th he is to meet the International Headquarters Staff at Clapton.

Our Leader's other important engagements include the Young People's Councils for London and the Home Counties, at Clapton, on Nov. 1st and 8th, respectively.

Mrs. Booth, who will accompany the General to the Young People's Councils, is at the Women's Social Anniversary in the Whitehall Rooms, London, W.C., on Nov. 12th.

The Chief Secretary's Staff opens his week-end campaign on Monday (Nov. 14th and 15th) with a meeting for Soldiers, Recruits, and ex-Soldiers, at the Citadel on the Saturday evening.

Commissioner Sturges has much improved in health, but is still under the doctor.

NOTES AND REFLECTIONS

By The General

But almost every mail brings us tidings of further works of mercy undertaken, in spite of trial and poverty, first in one country and then in another. Here is the latest, and it is from Finland. Colonel Larson is fitting up a hospital for the wounded, especially in the hope of helping and blessing wounded Finns, and having submitted his proposal to the Governor of Finland—who is, of course, a Russian staff officer—he has received a letter, from which I take the following:—

"When His Excellency the Governor-General of Finland was informed of your intention to open a hospital with eighty beds for wounded soldiers, he felt himself deeply touched by the very patriotic feeling The Salvation Army has for the poor. He has ordered his office to express both to yourself and to the members of The Salvation Army his sincere thanks. . . .

"With regard to your request to carry out your beloved work also in Petrograd and other places in Russia, and not only in Finland, the permission for this will depend upon the Minister of the Interior."

It is interesting to note in this connection that I have also been made acquainted with the very favourable impression produced upon the Russian Minister at Berlin by the work done by The Salvation Army for Russian refugees immediately on the outbreak of war.

I have to thank quite a number of friends and comrades for generously responding to my recent appeals for financial assistance. Their help is doubly valuable, inasmuch as it not only strengthens my hands, but encourages me to hope for still further gifts. Every shilling is of importance just now. I have to think not only of broken-hearted Belgium and distressed Switzerland, and the suffering crowds here at home, but of the support so vitally necessary for our splendid work in the Missionary countries. I have, also, been compelled to reduce in some degree the funds already promised to Commissioner Booth—such as for India, to Commissioner Mapp for Japan, to the East Indies. But I have gone as far as I dare in that direction. It seems to me that at no matter what cost of sacrifice at home, we ought, not, we must not, fail our dear comrades on those distant frontiers of our Salvation warfare. They have, we know, conflicts and burdens and distresses enough already. We must not add this, that we have promised to sustain them, fail them in this hour of trial.

Two letters, with money, reaching me during the last few days are so typical of the work that we are doing. The first is from a true friend, a man who, in company with wealth and influence, maintains a generous heart and a fine witness to the power of Jesus Christ:—

"To General Booth.

"My Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 1st, I forewent the unfortunate straits in which some well-known charitable institutions and organizations would be placed by the present heavy financial straits. Into the popular and patriotic appeals which are before the public at the present time, I hear of the effect from many quarters, and can but feel great concern for the finances of some of the philanthropic institutions of the land. Like every one else, I am expecting abnormal claims. As you know, I have been very busy, and I have pleasure in sending you a cheque in response to your letter for two hundred and fifty pounds, and only regret that it cannot be a larger sum.

"With kind regards, I remain, yours faithfully,

The second note to which I refer comes from one who is at the other end of the social scale—at any rate, so far as temporal means go. It has deeply touched both Mr. Booth and myself, and may be taken as illustrating the spirit manifest in the letters of others similarly placed. It is dated from the almshouses of a quiet little town a hundred miles or so from London, and it runs:—

"My Dear General,—I have seen your appeal for money in 'The War Cry,' and thought I would help you. I had put this money by for some time, but I have now received my money [twelve shillings enclosed].

"I am only a poor old lady and live in the almshouses with my brothers. Trusting you will give a good response to your appeal, I am, yours truly

Is it unreasonable to hope that an example of practical devotion such as this may help others to come to my aid?

Surely to-day no further word of mine is need to emphasize the claims of Belgium! It is probable that no such widespread devastation and misery have overtaken any country in the history of the modern world. It may almost be said that here is a whole nation unemployed. Trade and industry, which in other countries are no doubt gravely dislocated, have in Belgium come to a complete standstill. The docks and railways are stopped. The banks are closed. Newspapers have ceased to appear. Mill-workers, coal miners, iron-workers are starving, for the mines and furnaces are shut up. The only exception of any importance is, I am informed, in a place where the German military authorities want the Belgians to make guns which will be used against the Belgian army. In all this ghastly welter of misery, the women and children are, of course, the worst sufferers.

Now, in these appalling circumstances, I ask your help for the Special Mission of comfort and succour which I am sending to Belgium. Let me remind you again, that all we do will be done in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Gifts both large and small should be sent to me, addressed, General Booth, The Salvation Army Headquarters, London, E.C.

Once more let me entreat my dear people everywhere to put away from them all hatred and uncharitableness at this time. Let us remember that God has made of one flesh all nations, and that He has loved us, all alike. The gassation and horrors of war are just as powerless to alter this as to change the nature of God Himself. Ours great business, therefore, is to bless all, to serve all, to love all. Nay, even should we be convinced that this or that people has become our special enemy—no matter what nation we may belong to—then it is our glorious privilege to pray for those who spitefully use us, and to bless those who curse. There is only one way to be avenged on the foe, and that is to avenge not ourselves. There is only one way, really to dispose of injuries—that is, to forgive them.

Try and think of all who are involved in this cruel conflict as those who suffer with you. Remember the fidelity of the little French lad who, with the green vineyard, led you, leant against a tree, and said, 'I have pleasure in seeing the presence of his countrymen to their enemy. Picture the wounded German gunner dying on a stretcher in one of the dark railway vans of a train filled with wounded, who, as he passed away, kissed the hand of The Army Officer who was praying with him. They could not speak a word of each other's language, and yet the dying soldier understood. Praise God for the spirit manifest in the surgeon thus described by one of the Englishmen of science now at the front:—

"The wounded were left behind, and one plucky French nurse stayed to look after them. She says the German doctors were very kind and she treated them as well as she could, as indeed we, too, have done. She said that one of the German doctors even took off his uniform and put on an overall and called himself a captured English doctor in order to see a French civilian in the town who was ill. He took all this trouble because he thought the excitement (the hatred of a French German) would be bad for his patient; and, of course, he was under no obligation to treat people in the town at all. I think there is no doubt that the wounded are well treated as a rule."

Think of and pray for the mothers who will suffer. There is a suffering, which only mothers can really understand. The following letter, taken from the breast of a young Russian officer, killed in action, speaks to us all—but especially, does it speak to some mothers who have held back their sons and daughters

The sale of produce was a decided success.

The Young People had a week-end Harvest Festival all to themselves, and were very successful, both in their meetings and in their produce sale. Under the leadership of Sergeant-Major Condie they gave a service of song entitled "The Open Door," with great success.

The installation of Brigadier and Mrs. Betttridge was conducted by Lieut.-Colonel Rees a short time ago, at which the St. Thomas Band attended, and did good service.

Scarcely a meeting is held but three or more souls surrender. We have now about twenty enrolled Soldiers, and, in all, nearly one hundred saved. Among these are some who were the worst drunkards in the district, but now they stand and warn their old companions to depart from their evil ways.

Brigadier McLean visited Fort Frances on Oct. 19th, and was surprised to find a platform full of Soldiers awaiting him.

The Work has not been confined to Fort Frances alone, however, for we have an Outpost at International Falls. Brother Woods and his two boys come ten miles to attend the meetings. They were converted in the little school house at Crozier. We wish the Army was at Crozier, for there is a great work to be done all along the Rainy River Valley—Mrs. W. H. Woods.

Anora, Ont.—We had a welcome supper for Captain Martin, who has returned from his tour of duty. After supper several of the comrades spoke and plans for the winter's work were laid. We are aiming to get hold of the Young People, and are to make our message specially interesting for them—A. Sister.

NINE DEDICATIONS.

And Three Comrades Enrolled at Cobourg, Ont.

Captain Goodfellow led the Sunday meetings, Oct. 18th, and in the afternoon nine of our Soldiers' children were dedicated. As the children were brought to the platform, "When mothers of Salem their children brought to Jesus" was played by the Band.

At night three comrades were enrolled, and a brother reconverted himself. Brother Westlake has been commissioned Envoys and Brother R. Funnell, Colour-Sergeant. Our prayers and sympathies are for Treasurer and Mrs. Corn, whose little daughter Doris is in the hospital—X. Y. Z.

OLD COMRADE WELCOMED.

Major Hay Visits Winnipeg V.

Brigadier McLean, Major Hay, and Staff-Captain Sims were with us for our Sunday's Holiness meeting on Oct. 18th. After the Brigadier had given out the Staff-Captain Sims had given out a song, the Major spoke on "Samson and the Lion." We welcomed Sister Mrs. Climb back into our midst, after a work in England—C. H. P.

THREE PRISONERS TAKEN.

Harvest Festival meetings were a great success at Pictou this year, and we have completely smashed our target. Brigadier McLean and Major Wood were with us on Oct. 18th, and one soul surrendered. Two more souls surrendered on Saturday, and on Sunday three people came to the front—Int.

Wallaceburg, Ont.—Ensign and Mrs. L. Smith conducted the week-end meetings, Oct. 17th and 18th. A man surrendered before he began to sing. The man was later followed by his wife. A young lad also surrendered—H.

TWO SURRENDERS.

Young People's Sunday at Trenton.

The Young People's Local Officers and Corps Cadets took charge of the meetings on Sunday, October 19th. In the afternoon, the Juniors gave a programme of songs and recitations. Much credit is due to Young People's Sergeant-Major Van Winkle, for the pains taken in training the children. At night, in spite of heavy rain, there was a good attendance, and two souls surrendered—A. B. C.

OPENED NEW OUTPOST.

Brampton Band Visits Georgetown.

Our Band arrived at Georgetown, for the purpose of opening it as an Outpost, on Thanksgiving Day, Monday, Oct. 12th. Large posters headed our coming, and the people turned out en masse to welcome us. After our own open-airs we returned by the nine p.m. train, tired, but happy—J. M.

HOME LEAGUE FORMED.

Bandman Moss Farewells from Montreal IV.

Adjutant and Mrs. Rock were in charge of Sunday, Oct. 18th, and part of the day were assisted by Mrs. Ensign Wright and Captain Yost. Bandman Moss farewelled at night. One soul surrendered. Under the leadership of Mrs. Adjutant Rock a Home League has been formed. Sister Barker is second in command, and is assisted by Sister Ensign Treasurer, and Sister Rowe, Secretary—G. Dondanau.

A WELCOME MEETING.

Captain Wilson Takes Command at Yorkville (Toronto).

On Oct. 7th, Captain and Mrs. Wilson were welcomed. Sergeant-Major Goff led the meeting. Major Goff and the Treasurer had a few words, after which Captain Barker, the Band Sergeant, spoke on behalf of the comrades. On Saturday night two souls sought Salvation. Captain Barker read the lesson on Sunday night, and after a talk by Captain Wilson, four souls surrendered—P. M. P.

SIX MORE CONVERTS.

Captain and Mrs. Snowden to Farewell from Simcoe, Ont.

Captain and Mrs. Snowden, our Corps Officers, have received unexpected farewell orders. Since their arrival the Corps has made great strides. Over twenty Soldiers have been added to the roll, the Quarters has been re-furnished and decorated, and every branch of our Work has improved. At the close of the Sunday meeting six souls surrendered, and at night a young lad sought pardon. During the week Brigadier Alby visited us, and Adjutant Pickle and Captain Cook took part in the services—W. R.

NORLAND, ONT.

Captain Sanford led the meetings on Saturday and Sunday, and his singing was much appreciated, especially the song entitled "The Hallelujah Band." On Saturday evening it rained, and it seemed as if the clouds were to be spoiled, but it cleared up later, and on Sunday evening the Hall was packed. Recent converts are taking their stand—W.

FIVE CRAVE MERCY.

Several 'Welcomes' at Dovercourt.

After a soul-inspiring talk by Adjutant Osborne, five persons came forward for Holiness on Sunday morning. The Band and Songsters each took an active share in the meeting. We have welcomed Adjutant and Mrs. Knight with wife and daughters. Brother Kingston, late of Bristol I; Brother Smeaton, son of Lieut.-Colonel Smeaton, and "Dad" Stratton, who has been away from Dovercourt, in the country, for two years.

We regret to say farewell to Sister Olive Morgan, who is returning to her parents in England. Our comrade's sister was lost on the Empress, and we wish her God-speed in her nerve-straining journey. We had one hundred and fifty in our march on Sunday night—J. R.

INTRODUCED NEW CHORUS.

Eight Desert Paths of Darkness and Seek Pardon.

On Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 19th and 20th, we had with us Major and Mrs. Coombs at Fredericton. The Major taught us a new chorus to the tune of "Tipperary," which started us singing.

The afternoon meeting was led by Mrs. Coombs, and Mrs. Adjutant Burry took the lesson. Six souls surrendered.

At night the Major took the lesson, and two more souls surrendered—Corps Correspondent.

LONG POND, N.F.L.D.

Brigadier Morehen was with us on Sunday, Sept. 27th, but a number of our comrades were unable to attend the meetings, much to their disappointment, because of the high winds. Our Hall was almost full both afternoon and evening meetings—P. M. P.

SASKATOON, SASK.

Ensign Andrew, assisted by Captain Crowell, conducted the Harvest Festival, and we had a good display of fruit and produce. Mr. H. F. Woodry, a local auctioneer, sold off the goods on Monday night, and the proceeds were realized. Our target is smashed—"Peggy."

Chester (Toronto).—We had well-attended meetings on Sunday last, Oct. 18th, which were conducted by our new Officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Crowell. Over twenty souls attended all open-airs, and at night three sinners and one backslider surrendered. Our Hall is not large enough to accommodate the crowds which attend, —W. G. S.

Regina, Sask.—Adjutant and Mrs. Weir have been in charge of the meetings for the last two weeks. During the last week or two we have had twenty-five surrenders, and several of these have attended meetings testified to God's saving power—R. J. C.

TRADE NOTES.

We have received some very "faded" comments on the work that is being turned out of our Ladies' Dress-making Department. This is filling a long-felt want, and bids fair to be extensively patronized in future.

ARMY SONGS.

I DARE BELIEVE IN JESUS' NAME.

Tunes.—Sovereignty, 119; Ye banks and braes, 121.

Surrounded by a host of foes,
Stormed by a host of foes within,
Nor swift to flee, nor strong to oppose,

Single, against hell, earth, and sin:

Single, yet undismayed I am;
I dare believe in Jesus' name.

Salvation in His name there is—
Salvation from sin, death and hell—

Salvation into glorious bliss;
How great salvation who can tell?
But all He hath for mine I claim:
I dare believe in Jesus' name.

NEAR THE CROSS.

Near the Cross, B.J., 8; Song-Book, 14.

Jesus, keep me near the Cross,
There's a precious fountain,
Free to all—a healing stream—
Flows from Calvary's mountain.

In the Cross, in the Cross, be my glory ever:
Till my raptured soul shall find rest beyond the river.

Near the Cross, a trembling soul,
Love and mercy found me;
There the Bright and Morning Star,
Shed His beams around me.

Near the Cross, O Lamb of God,
Bring thy scenes before me;
Help me walk from day to day
With its shadows o'er me.

READY TO DIE.

Ready to die, 197; Song-Book No. 122.

With a sorrow for sin
Must repentance begin,
Then salvation of course will draw nigh!

But till washed in the blood
Of the crucified Lord,
You will never be ready to die.

We've His word and His oath,
And His blood seals them both—
And we're sure the Almighty can't lie.

If you do not delay,
But repent while you may,
"He will soon make you ready to die."

SOLO.

Tune—Come back to Erin.
Come back to Jesus, poor wandering sinner,
Come back to Jesus, He's calling to thee:

Bidding you think of the vows you have broken;
Offering a pardon, so full and so free.

Oh, when you wandered from Jesus your Saviour,
Little you thought to what depths you would go:

Still you are drifting much further from Heaven,
Dreading much nearer that dark place of woe.

Chorus.

Come back to Jesus, poor wandering sinner,
Come back to Jesus, your soul He will free.

Listen, in accents of love He is saying:
"Sinner, poor sinner, there's mercy for thee!"

Come back to Jesus, for still He is calling,
Calling poor sinner, yes calling to thee:

SCANDAL.

Scandal is simply the conversational resources of empty minds; it is easy to see why people fall so readily into backbiting, it is because they have nothing else to say. The remedy is to fill our minds with other themes and interests.

Fire is lighted in different parts of the world by strange means. Some nations run two sticks together, others use flints, but the strangest of all is the fire-bow, or fire-drill, used by Indians and Eskimos.
